

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

TO ALL MY FELLOW EMPLOYEES:

At Headquarters and throughout the world, this holiday season is a time for renewing the ties of common purpose and shared dedication which draw us together in a joint endeavor.

As 1964 began, we were closing ranks around a new leader. As the year draws to a close, we can look back with satisfaction on the achievements of our country, our people, and our own immediate organization. For the challenges of 1965 I know we may count on your continued effort and loyalty.

To all of you, my warm good wishes for a Merry Christmas and a happy and successful new year.

FOIA(b)(3)

John A. McCone